

SUNDAY DISASTER

An Engagement at Quengua in Which Seven Americans Were Killed.

COL. STETENBERG AMONG THE DEAD.

The Americans Compelled to Retreat Carrying Their Wounded With Them With Difficulty.

Rebels Subsequently Attacked and Driven From Their Trench to the Second Trench a Mile Away—Nebraska Regiment the Loser.

MANILA, April 24.—Four men of the Nebraska regiment, including Col. Stetsberg, Lieut. Sisson and three men of the fourth cavalry were killed and 44 wounded in an engagement at Quengua. The Filipinos retreated with small loss. The engagement developed into a disastrous, though successful fight. The insurgents had a horseshoe trench about a mile long encircling a rice field on the edge of a wood.

The following were killed:

Col. John M. Stetsberg, of the 1st Nebraska regiment, formerly of the 6th cavalry.

Lieut. Sisson (perhaps Lieut. August C. Sisson), of the same regiment. Two privates of the Nebraska regiment.

Three privates of the 4th cavalry. Most of the wounded belong to the 1st Nebraska regiment.

Maj. Bell, with an cavalryman, encountered a strong outpost. One of his men was killed and five were wounded by a volley.

The Americans retreated, carrying their wounded under fire and with great difficulty, being closely pursued, a fog enabling the enemy to creep up to them.

Two men who were carrying a comrade were shot in the arms, but they continued with their burden.

Maj. Bell sent for reinforcements to rescue the body of the killed cavalryman, and a battalion of the Nebraska regiment, under Maj. Mofford, arrived and advanced until checked by volley from the enemy's trenches.

The Americans lay about 800 yards from the trenches, behind rice furrows under fire, for two hours.

Several men were struck, one dying from the effects of the heat, a fly lay there waiting for the artillery to come up.

Finally the second battalion arrived and then Col. Stetsberg, who has spent the night with his father at Manila, came upon the field. The men immediately recognized him and he charged as the cheapest way out of the difficulty, led the attack at the head of his regiment. He fell with a bullet in the breast, dying instantly about 300 yards from the breastworks.

Lieut. Sisson fell with a bullet in his heart, the bullet striking him near the picture of a girl suspended by a ribbon from his neck.

In the meantime the artillery had arrived and shelled the trenches. The Filipinos stood until the Nebraska troops were right on the trenches and then they retreated the second line of intrenchments a mile back.

The Nebraska regiment lost two privates and had many wounded, including two lieutenants.

The Iowa regiment had several wounded.

The Utah regiment had one officer and three men wounded.

Thirteen dead Filipinos were lying in the trenches. Their loss was comparatively small on account of their safe shelter.

The Americans carried the second trench with small loss and are holding the town Sunday night.

Col. Stetsberg has won a reputation as one of the bravest fighters in the army. He always led his regiment and had achieved remarkable popularity with his men since the war began, although during his first colonelcy the volunteers, who were not used to the rigid discipline of the regular troops, thought him a hard officer.

The loss of the Nebraska regiment in the campaign is the greatest sustained by any regiment, and Sunday's disaster has again saddened officers and men, who promise to take revenge in the next fight.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The following message regarding the fight at Quengua was received at the war department Sunday:

"MANILA, April 23. Adjutant General, Washington: A reconnaissance on Quengua place, six miles northeast of Manila, made by Maj. Bell and a troop of cavalry this morning resulted in contact and battle, in which four battalions of infantry and four pieces of artillery became engaged. Heavy driven from intrenchments at Quengua with considerable loss; our casualties quite severe. Col. Stetsberg and Lieut. Sisson, 1st Nebraska, killed, also several enlisted men. Considerable numbers wounded, not yet reported.

ANOTHER BATTLE.

The Dakota Regiment Encountered the Rebels in Front of Novaleshes.

THE FILIPINOS OPENED FIRE FIRST.

Their Guns Were Silenced Fifteen Minutes Later, and the Enemy Retired in Bad Disorder.

The Rebels Left Many Dead on the Field—Gen. Lawton Will Endeavor to Out-Flank the Filipinos Before He Joins Gen. MacArthur.

MANILA, April 24.—Gen. Lawton took the field Sunday morning with a column of troops, consisting of the North Dakota regiment, two battalions of the 3d infantry, the 23d infantry, two guns of Scott's battery, three troops of the 4th cavalry, and Gales' squadron, equipped with light marching order. This force started at 5 o'clock Saturday morning over the Novaleshes road, traversing the country previously cleared of rebels, but subsequently reconquered by them. It is to be presumed that Gen. Lawton by this movement will out-flank the enemy before joining Gen. MacArthur north of Manila.

The Dakota regiment first encountered the enemy in front of Novaleshes at 8:15 a. m. The rebels opened fire on our troops but their fire was silenced 15 minutes later, and the enemy retired in bad order and the Americans advancing along the rough roads around Novaleshes. They were considerably annoyed by the fire of the rebel sharpshooters from the jungle for two hours.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the rebels were in full flight, leaving many dead on the field, and our troops were compelled to take a brief rest in the shade as the heat was overpowering.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The war department has nothing new from Gen. Otis, but it has reason to believe that he was surprised at the easy march Gen. Lawton was having in the interior to the northeast of Manila. Gen. Otis only designed it to be another "reconnaissance in force."

News may develop into a round-up, with the object of striking the railroad north of Calocan. It is understood Gen. Lawton took only three days' travel ratings with him, but if no strong body of insurgents is developed by his advance, supplies can be sent after him from Calocan.

Several men were struck, one dying from the effects of the heat, a fly lay there waiting for the artillery to come up.

Finally the second battalion arrived and then Col. Stetsberg, who has spent the night with his father at Manila, came upon the field. The men immediately recognized him and he charged as the cheapest way out of the difficulty, led the attack at the head of his regiment. He fell with a bullet in the breast, dying instantly about 300 yards from the breastworks.

NEGRO LYNCED

In the Presence of Many People Sam Hose Was Burned at the Stake.

ONE OF THE WORST ACTS KNOWN.

Before Torch Was Applied the Negro Was Deprived of Ears, Fingers and Other Portions.

Before the Body Was Cool It Was Cut to Pieces and Bones Crushed—P. C. T. Atkinson, Who Interfered, Was Threatened With Death.

NEWMAN, Ga., April 24.—In the presence of nearly 2,000 people, who sent aloft yells of defiance and shouts of joy, Sam Hose, a Negro who committed two of the basest acts known to crime, was burned at the stake in a public road one and one-half miles from here Sunday afternoon. Before the torch was applied to the pyre, the Negro was deprived of his ears, fingers and other portions of his anatomy. The Negro pleaded pitifully for his life while the mutilation was going on, but stood the ordeal of fire with surprising fortitude. Before the body was cool it was cut to pieces, the bones were crushed into small bits and even the tree upon which the wretch met his fate was torn up and disposed of as soon as the Negro's heart was cut in several places as was also his liver. Those unable to obtain the ghastly relics direct, paid their more fortunate possessors extravagant sums for them. The remains of the wretch were sold for 10 cents. As soon as the Negro was seen to be dead, there was a tremendous struggle among the crowd which he witnessed his tragedy and to secure the souvenirs. A rush was made for the stake and those near the body were forced against it and had to fight for their freedom. Knives were quickly produced and the body was soon dismembered.

The mob was composed of citizens of Newman, Griffin, Palmetto and other little towns in the country roundabout.

With the object of striking the railroad north of Calocan. It is understood Gen. Lawton took only three days' travel ratings with him, but if no strong body of insurgents is developed by his advance, supplies can be sent after him from Calocan.

Lieut. Sisson fell with a bullet in his heart, the bullet striking him near the picture of a girl suspended by a ribbon from his neck.

THE SAXTON MURDER TRIAL.

Rebuttal Testimony on Behalf of the State Was Taken Saturday—The Morphia Habit of Mrs. Eckroate.

CANTON, O., April 24.—Mrs. Lizzie Miller who saw the man in the maskintosh and sailor hat soon after the death of Saxton, was not on hand for cross-examination by the state when court opened Saturday. A doctor had been sent to investigate her physical ability to attend and the state reserved the right to take up the subject later.

Rebuttal on behalf of the state began. County Surveyor J. S. Hoover was called to testify as to the distances between points named in testimony for the defense. It was especially sought to show that the accused might have left the scene of the tragedy after the shooting and reached Florence Klinge's home at the hour named by that witness.

In effort to rebut Mrs. Lindenman's testimony about Mrs. George not having a revolver concealed the day of the murder, policeman McClellan was called to show that Mrs. George had, inside her corset, had a number of arms which intended to improve her form. This was held incompetent in rebuttal.

Michael Barr, post office money order clerk, said he saw Mrs. George in the office at 8:30 a. m. of the day of the murder. This was in contradiction of Mrs. Lindenman, who said Mrs. George was with her all of the afternoon. He also mentioned two letters in Mrs. George's writing.

Mrs. Lizzie Miller sent a medical certificate of inability to appear in court.

Sample C. George was called to fix the time of settlement with Saxton at two days before Saxton's death. The memoranda of settlement was offered in evidence.

A. C. Grant testified as a scientific witness on the morphia habit and also on an examination of Mrs. Eckroate. He said she shows no symptoms of the habitual use of opium.

Dr. Walker followed Mr. Grant and the remainder of the morning was devoted to medical testimony on the morphia habit.

Dr. Walker testified as to Mrs. Eckroate and that examinations show no symptoms of the habit in her case.

NO LIVES WERE LOST.

Steamship Glenogle Crashed Into the Steamer City of Kingston at Tacoma—The Latter Cut to Two.

TACOMA, Wash., April 24.—The steamship Glenogle crashed into the steamer City of Kingston about 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning off Brown's Point, cutting the City of Kingston in two just abaft the boilers. The 12 passengers and crew of the Kingston were saved through the prompt action of the officers of the Glenogle and two ships lying in the harbor. So far as known no lives were lost.

Rev. Horace H. Clapham, rector of Trinity church, officiated. The wreck was struck by the Glenogle's prow and was planned in the wreckage for several minutes, only being released by the parting of the steamers. His body was slightly hurt but he was not seriously hurt.

The Kingston was cut in two pieces which have been towed to the harbor here.

Despite the great height, an excellent photograph was made of the scaffolding, showing a man in clear detail at the top.
